Discrimination Against North

The Edmonton Bulletin has been balked in its effort to give the people of the North a daily airmail newspaper service because the government of Canada has chosen to discriminate rankly against that part of the country.

The Canadian Pacific Airlines northward service from Edmonton is to be reduced, according to official reports, by government order from once a day to thrice weekly. The hour of departure is already changed from noon until late at night. This makes it impossible to deliver papers in these remote areas, where immediate news is a Godsend, on the same day as they are published.

This impending reduction of the northern service comes on the heels of an announcement that the government has given Trans-Canada Airlines a contract for carrying ordinary four-cent mail over all that company's main routes. That is to say, the TCA will carry mail, whether it bears air stamps or not, from one end of the country to the other.

But districts served by the CPA, notably the North, will not have the benefit of this service. The government has discriminated against the CPA in favor of the TCA and, in discriminating against this air service, discriminates against every area served by that organization.

This is one of the most unjust and one-sided measures ever promulgated by Ottawa. It is one of the most shortsighted steps ever taken by Ottawa. For if there is one part of the country that needs a rapid mail delivery that part is the Canadian North whose development all Canada is interested in expediting.

The Edmonton Chamber of Commerce is to be congratulated for making a vigorous protest against this discrimination.

Every town and city and village against which this incredible discrimination lies should add its voice vehemently to that protest.

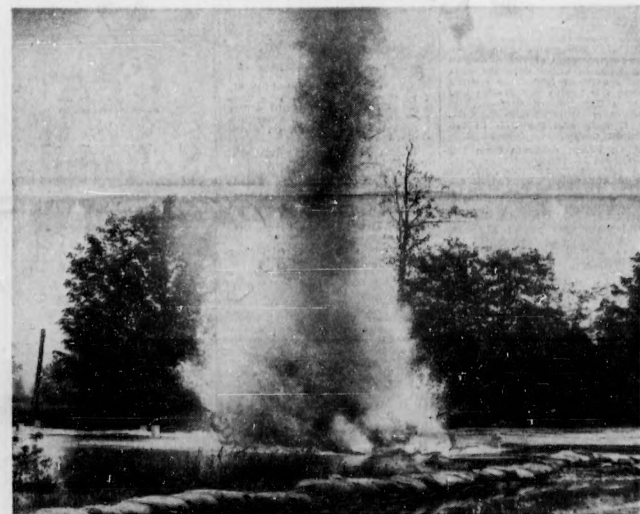

The right of carrying mail at the basic rate should be given to the CPA quite as much as to the TCA. The frequency of air services to the North should be equal in all respects to the frequency of services in other parts of Canada.—Editor.

Swollen Fraser Inundates Homes in B.C. Town

CREeping IN RELENTLESSLY, waters from the flood-torn Fraser River spread out over rich farm lands in the Agassiz area of B.C. and few homes in this valley centre escaped. Roads became impassable and women and children were ordered out over rich farm lands throughout the valley as flood conditions continue.

BLASTED CULVERT at B.C. town of Agassiz resembled miniature Bikini when farmers dynamited two $1,000 culverts to ease pressure from flooding Fraser river. Culverts were diverting water to Steve Mahry's farm, where he moved cattle and family to barn haylot.

30 TERRIFYING MINUTES

Flood Engulfed Town Like Raging Waterfall

By WILLIAM H. LOGAN
VANPORT, Ore., May 31.—(BUP)—Vanport City, a community of 19,000 persons that was spawned overnight during the war, died in 30 terrifying minutes.

At 4:15 p.m. PST (8:15 p.m. EDT) yesterday, a 50-foot section of the dike on the west side of the city collapsed. Ten minutes later a tidal wave of water swept into the city, crushing houses and uprooting them from their foundations.

There was no warning. Authorities had considered the city comparatively safe from the floods. Sgt. Dick Miller of the Multnomah county sheriff's office witnessed the disaster from the top of the dike.

"About 50 feet of the dike collapsed like a falling wall," he said. "The water smashed through the gap like a waterfall. As it swirled into the lowlands the break in the dike kept widening."

Stockyards Fire Endangers Stock

SOUTH ST. PAUL, May 31.—(AP)—Fire attacked the tinder-dry wooden pens of the South St. Paul Union Stockyards Company at 11:45 a.m. CST today and within 30 minutes had spread over a two-block area.

The fire started in the pens' west yards.

Yard employees turned their first effort toward saving an adjoining 2,000 head of livestock. Many of the animals were turned loose and fled to the streets near the fringe of the yards.

Toll Is Unknown In J. S. Disaster

(More flood pictures and stories Pages 3 and 20)

By Roger Johnson

PORTLAND, Ore., May 31.—(BUP)—The Pacific Northwest's worst flood in history smashed a levee and poured into the town of The Dalles, Ore., today after winding out Vanport, a war-built city of 19,000, with an unknown number of dead.

At Washington, President Truman declared the flood area in Oregon, Washington and Idaho a disaster region and arranged for the use of surplus war goods for relief and rehabilitation.

Refugees from Vanport, a low-lying suburb of Portland made up chiefly of war-time housing, filled Red Cross shelters to overflowing today. Authorities were unable to estimate the death toll, because high water still covered the city.

A huge wall of water broke through the dike at Vanport yesterday, and it was feared many persons were trapped in smashed dwellings, some of which were overturned or torn from their foundations to drift like matchwood in the rising current.

At The Dalles, an inland port city of 8,000 persons situated 90 miles upstream on the raging Columbia river, the levee broke at 6:15 a.m. and muddy water surged into the lower section of town.

At Portland, police broadcast a general alarm for volunteers when dikes began seeping badly northeast of the metropolitan area.

"Vanport is a total loss," Multnomah County Sheriff Martin Pratt said. "It has been wiped out of existence."

An undetermined number was trapped in flooded houses or drowned. Officials said they were unable to estimate the death toll.

A spokesman at Red Cross headquarters said "it is impossible to estimate the number drowned."

The Multnomah County sheriff's office said: "The number might range anywhere between 10 and 1,000. We don't know until the flood goes back."

The number of dead may not be known for 10 days or two weeks. No list has been compiled by any agency for the city's pre-flood population, or the number rescued.

No disaster warning

Residents had no warning of the disaster. Sgt. Dick Miller of the county sheriff's staff said about 30 feet of the dike at Smith lake crumbled and a wall of water three feet high swept onto the town. This was followed by another wave 10 feet high.

The neat rows of Vanport's fabricated houses, erected in war time for shipyard workers, were crushed like matchboxes. Houses were lifted by the jurgling current and smashed into sticks. Others were overturned or left tilting in 10 to 15 feet of water.

Hundreds of volunteer workers, policemen, Red Cross workers, National Guardsmen and sheriffs' deputies moved into the wreckage to search for bodies last night.

They worked under the glare of searchlights until new flood threats forced them to flee.

Scores of persons were injured in the first wave of water that invaded the town like a tidal wave. Many persons were treated for immersion.

Thousands of refugees, the majority of them afloat, streamed out of the city and into emergency Red Cross shelters. Sixty-five Portland elementary schools were converted into shelters.

Parents Carried Children

Most of the refugees carried only a few personal belongings, stuffed into shopping bags or suitcases. Parents carried their children. Some escaped with only the clothes they wore.

Mrs. Max Hansen was on the dike when it gave way.

We parked our car below the dike and walked up the side through seepage water," she said. "Suddenly, there was a rumble and a section of the dike just slipped away."

"We rushed to our house, got our children and a few things, and drove away as fast as we could. We didn't know where we were going."

Mr. and Mrs. Dewey Miller were sitting on the sidewalk near the main Red Cross headquarters when their two small daughters and their dog, Mrs. Miller described their flight.

"People came running by, saying the water was coming. I screamed to Dewey. We only had time to pack four things, later we saw the children, and ran down the highway. The water was right behind us."

Scores of automobiles were trapped in the flood. Water swept over roofs and tops of cars, smashing first and second storey windows.

Eye-Witness Story Of Vanport Horror

By Gordon G. McNab

VANPORT, Ore., May 31.—(AP)—A little red-haired girl ran screaming down the street: "Wait for me! Wait for me!"

I patted her head and ran on in the direction of the break in the Vanport dike.

The street was jammed with cars and people all trying to get out of Vanport, once Oregon's second largest city, now a place where only death lives.

I ran toward the break. The crowd thinned. Suddenly across a little dip I saw the water. It swept down the street like a wall, maybe two feet high. In front I broke like waves at the beach; only the water wasn't white like at the ocean. It was a dull, dirt color.

Across the dip I saw the water slap against a 16-apartment building. Three men were there. In little more than an instant they were help dead.

SPINTERING SOUND
There was a splintering sound—sharp and loud. The big apartment building where the three men had been began to sway around slowly as if on a lo-padded railroad trolley. There was a crack and kindling began to fly around loose on the front waves of the water.

There was a shout from a middle-aged man, neatly dressed in blue, strutting knee deep in water toward us. He held the arm of an old lady.

"Don't care what happens to me but save my mother!"

A sheriff's car took them east toward the jam-up of cars seeking safety.

I saw two men in a building, one of them waving his hand.

500,000 Sandbags Rushed to Flood Area

MONTREAL, May 31.—(CP)—The army had nearly 500,000 sandbags on the way to flood-stricken west coast districts by train and plane today as it opened up its central ordnance depot here—largest in the Empire—to help the inundated Fraser River area.

More than 230,000 in the bomb base available only in Montreal in emergency—sent to Calgary and Winnipeg by regular trains, to be flown into the flooded area from there. Early today a special train left with 220,000 bags for Winnipeg.

Meanwhile, every available plane of the RCAF 435 Transport Squadron was pressed into duty and by dawn 100,000 sandbags had been flown across the 2,400 miles of coastline to Vancouver.

Sun Brings New B.C. Flood Danger

By George Finlay

VANCOUVER, May 31.—(CP)—With an ominous roar, another dike went out along the Fraser river today, sweeping the murky waters into the farming community of Matsqui.

The new danger point is 40 miles east of Vancouver on the south bank of the Fraser across the river from the hard-hit city of Mission.

It was another day of sunshine along the devastated valley, but it brought only fear. Sunshine and warm weather meant melting snow in the mountains.

The floods, in less than a week, have taken a toll into the million of dollars.

LOSSES RUN HIGH
The valley losses alone are reported unofficially to range from $15,000,000 to $20,000,000. But no one in authority had official figures. Added to valley losses must be counted the $1,000,000 at Kimberley, in the Kootenays and hundreds of thousands in other districts.

Four hundred workers had battled throughout the night at Matsqui to reinforce the crumbling dike. Thousands of sandbags were tumbled into breaches, but they failed to hold.

The little river village was not in immediate danger, but already more than 500 people have been evacuated.

Other dikes in the district threatened to collapse and the RCAF is flying in 10,000 sandbags to bolster the water defences.

SOME DIKES HOLDING
In other Fraser Valley centres the dikes held as thousands of army and civilian workers sandbagged weak spots along the waterway.

Pitt Meadows, Barnston, Chilliwack, Lulu Island and other dikes are holding after valiant week-end battles. All are in the 50-mile flood zone from here.

Reinforcements were called for today with more reserve regiments in Vancouver and New Westminster ordered to duty. New appeals were made for civilian workers.

Now on duty are 4,000 soldiers, 400 sailors and at least 40,000 civilians in the fight. The RCAF had all its resources in the battle.

More hundreds will be evacuated from the valley today. The home number in the thousands.

WAR VETS HELPING
Many veterans of the Second World War reported for duty with the reserve army. They came in in battle dress and service ribbons.

The RCAF maintained its "bread in" during the day, flying thousands of leaves into flood-distressed towns and villages.

At least the first flood disaster in British Columbia's 77-year history. One thousand persons in the Pitt Meadows district, 30 miles south of Vancouver, were evacuated.

AT INTERNATIONAL TRADE FAIR

World Buying, Selling Problem Being Tested

By The Canadian Press
In order to sell, Canada must buy, is one of the slogans of the present Canadian International Trade Fair in Toronto.
Before many countries can buy Canadian goods in any quantity they somehow have to be supplied with Canadian dollars. This problem is one easily understood by Canadians because they have the same difficulties themselves in the matter of United States dollars.
In any event, the whole problem of world buying and selling is being tested in this present fortnight, as 32 countries lay open their counters at the trade fair and the buyers of more than 75 countries look at them.
The fair gets down to its real buyer-seller relations today, but from preliminary transactions and the reactions of visitors, officials believe its success is assured.

Its dollars and cents results won't be known, for the essence of the fair is to create a place where businessmen from all over the world can meet, provide them with facilities, and then leave them alone.
It is obvious that one result will be to make Canada more widely known, for some 35,000 people will be here, about 10,000 from outside North America, and they will carry their impressions home, both from a business and personal point of view. In this connection Acting Trade Minister Mackinnon said Saturday:
"Let us, as individuals, as Canadians seek out visitors from other countries and make a point of extending to them some special and particular personal attention and courtesy."

"He may be an importer of fish or an exporter of rubber, and your line may be farm implements or textiles. But his very presence indicates his community of interest with trade-minded Canadians. It indicates as well an interest in this country which is becoming a new force in world trade."
Security markets in Canada and the United States were closed Saturday, as they will be for succeeding Saturdays until the fall, and American exchanges continue the holiday today for Memorial Day. Grains Saturday were stronger in Chicago and Winnipeg.

COSMOPOLITAN CLUB CARNIVAL WEEK OPENS

This is Cosmopolitan Carnival Week in Edmonton. The annual Cosmopolitan Club Carnival gets under way tonight at 7:30 o'clock at 102 avenue and 105 street, with a full complement of games, rides and shows.
Members of the club will take an active part in operating the carnival.
Proceeds of the carnival are to be used for Boy Scout work in Edmonton and for several charities operated by the Service Club.

Peace River Waging Grim Flood Battle

Workers at Peace River are still waging a grim battle today to protect the town from the rampaging waters of the Peace and Harmon rivers. Peace River is 24 1/2 miles northwest of Edmonton.

Sask. Health Plan Gets Secured Blast

YORKTON, Sask., May 31.—(CP)—Participation in the Saskatchewan hospital services plan would be put on a voluntary basis by a Social Credit Government, Dr. J. N. Haldeman, provincial Social Credit Leader, said in a campaign speech Saturday.
He said the "present cost of these mass production health factories where the human principle seems to have been forgotten, is out of all proportions to the services received."
Dr. Haldeman said the CCF government had called a June 24 election because it knew Social Credit was gaining ground rapidly.
"If they had waited until fall we would have swept the province and there would not even have been a good opposition," he said.
"As it is they are going to have a tight run."

Canada's Olympic Matmen Named

TORONTO, May 31.—(CP)—Three matmen from Montreal and three from Toronto were named to Canada's Olympic wrestling team after those two cities made a clean sweep of the Canadian Olympic wrestling trials which finished here Saturday night.
These men form the team: Harry Pearce, welterweight, Toronto; Maurice Vachon, middleweight, Montreal; Fernan Payette, light heavyweight, Montreal; Norman May, bantamweight, Toronto; Morgan Plumb, lightweight, Toronto; and Mario Crete, featherweight, Montreal.
Mickey Nicholas, Edmonton, lost by decision.

3 Arab Armies Trying To Encircle Tel Aviv

By Max Boyd
CAIRO, May 31.—(AP)—Three Arab armies appeared today to encircle the Israeli centre of Tel Aviv as they have ringed Jerusalem.
Encirclement rather than a hazardous frontal attack generally was believed the Arab aim.

Some Arab leaders talked of telling the United Nations the Arabs cannot accept its request for a four-week armistice unless the UN regulates the idea of dividing Palestine into Jewish and Arab states.
There was no official word as to the nearest point hostile troops were approached Tel Aviv. Abdel Ill El Hawi, Israeli charge d'affaires in Cairo, told reporters "all troops were only three miles away."
The Trans-Jordan Legion announced in Amman it had smashed Jewish assault in the Latrun area and that the Jews had left behind 14 killed. Latrun is in Arab territory on the important Tel Aviv-Jerusalem highway.

The Jewish Irgun Zvai Leumi reported, however, that an Iraqi armed column had forced it back from Ras El Ain, nine miles north-east of Tel Aviv.
Along the coast 20 miles south of Tel Aviv, the Egyptian army is up against the Jewish defence line inside the area assigned to the Arabs under the partition plan. An Egyptian communiqué said a Jewish counter-attack in the Isdud region was repulsed and that Egyptian bombers hit targets in the Rehovot area, 11 miles southeast of Tel Aviv.

Exemptions Won By Jury Farmers

Varied Wiles Are Used To Gain Seeding Time
Recent unseasonable weather that has plagued farmers recently was marshalled to their aid in supreme court here today.

Farmers summoned for jury service, in a civil court action, pleaded for exemption on the ground they were extremely busy putting in their crops, seeding of which had been delayed by the late spring.

The smallness of the jury panel prevented consideration of their applications for exemption.

However, A. I. Pearce, Lamont farmer, had a second plea.

He blandly asked the court if there was an age limit for jury service?

"Sixty" intoned the court.
"Under the wire by eight years," replied the farmer to win his exemption.

However farmers called by the court were all challenged by either defence or prosecuting counsel.

They evidently considered it would be against their interests to tie up busy farmers for the three days of the trial.

Benjamin Franklin helped establish a mutual fire insurance company in the United States in 1752.

All scheduled flights of the RCAF in North-West Air Command have been cancelled and planes are standing by to aid in the grim battle against rushing flood waters in Western Canada.

NWAC officials reported this morning.

Sandbags were flown in from Edmonton, Fort St. John, B.C., and White Horse in RCAF planes in response to an appeal from W. J. Higgins, Alberta government public works engineer in Peace River.

More are on the way.

The river has risen to within about an inch of its peak of a previous high, after dropping nine inches last Friday.

It is now a foot and one-half above the banks of the river and it is feared that should the dike give way numerous families would be flooded out.

About 10 families have already left their homes and basements of a number of other dwellings are flooded.

There was no rise in the Peace river during the night, but reports from Fort St. John, 300 miles west, said the river was still mounting.

Meanwhile, flood waters sweeping down from the Rocky Mountains have halted ferries across the South Saskatchewan river between Swift Current and the Alberta border.

Empress, near the Alberta-Saskatchewan border, reported water levels at the highest peak in history.

Wheat Board Urges Early Delivery

WINNIPEG, May 31.—(CP)—The Canadian Wheat Board, noting the "extreme urgency" of moving every bushel of wheat as soon as possible to the Lakehead and mills, has issued a reminder that after today all wheat in store in country elevators will be considered available for shipment.

"Agents must be instructed to order cars for all carlots and to continue shipments as carlot quantities accumulate," the board said. This provision would not affect wheat held for local mills.

Mystery at the University

The mysterious termination of Professor John Reymes-King's engagement as head of the music department at the university requires some frank explaining on the part of President Robert Newton.

It is the custom at the University of Alberta that professors be engaged for a probationary term of two years before securing a permanent appointment. At the end of that time, the board of governors either appoints such a professor to the permanent staff or refuses to enter into a contract with him.

In practice, the board of governors follows the recommendation of the president in this respect. The board has power to override the president's decision. But it does not do so because such opposition would be tantamount to a repudiation of the president.

President Newton recommended that Professor Reymes-King be not engaged.

There was some opposition within the board. Also outside representations were made to the effect that Mr. Reymes-King was being treated most unjustly in that the refusal to offer him a contract after he had been induced to leave an important and well-paid post in the East and after he had demonstrated unusual capacity for his work here would be held against him as a dismissal for cause in any future academic work he might undertake.

But the president persisted in his stand and Mr. Reymes-King's connection with the university continues to be severed, although the president's charges against the professor have never been given to the public for some reason known to the president alone.

Professor Reymes-King has been highly regarded in Alberta musical circles. In Robertson United Church, where he functioned as choirmaster and organist, his work was of the very finest character. Not a single effective charge has been laid, so far as we know, against his efficiency or his capacity.

Why, then, did President Newton want him fired?

There has been a great deal of talk and a great deal of rumor about this point. Certainly there is far too much mystery about the case of Professor Reymes-King as well as about certain previous dismissals from the staff or operations that were equivalent to dismissal.

These rumors are not healthy for the university. If they persist, they are going to make it increasingly difficult for the university to secure competent staff when it is felt by many that a professor's job hangs on a whim.

In justice to Professor Reymes-King and in justice to himself, President Newton should make a full and complete statement to the people of Alberta who have an annual stake of $825,622 in the university.

A Great Provincial Asset

The prediction by W. O. Twaits of Toronto, manager of the economics department of Imperial Oil Limited, that the Leduc division of the Edmonton oil field may eventually produce ten times as much oil as at present indicates how substantially this industry can contribute to the prosperity of Alberta.

The present daily production of the Leduc field is 6,000 barrels. Mr. Twaits believes this will be increased to 65,000 or 75,000 barrels.

This is a considerable proportion of the total oil output of North America.

In 1945, which is the latest year for which figures are available, the world output of oil per annum was 2,624,929,000 barrels.

North America produced 1,784,443,000 barrels, South America 385,911,000, Europe 204,802,000, Asia 240,322,000 and Africa 9,431,000.

Leduc's oil production, therefore, calculated on the basis of 75,000 barrels for 313 days a year, would be nearly three times that of all Africa and nearly a tenth of that of all Asia and more than a tenth of the total European production.

Why the Income Tax Pinches

The tremendous protest that has been registered, in parliament and out of it, against the failure of the federal government to reduce income tax in the latest budget is based, as much as anything else, on a comparison of such taxes with those of the United States.

We are constantly reminded of the similarity between the American economy and our own. And yet the income tax in Canada is so much higher than that across the border that Canadians are naturally perplexed by the difference.

It is true that the United States has a ten-times-greater population upon which to draw for revenue. But its expenditures, both domestic and extra-domestic, are correspondingly greater.

On the other hand, taxation in Britain is notoriously heavier than in Canada. But here again the cost of post-war recovery is infinitely higher than in Canada.

The income tax paid by a typical family of four in the three countries is as follows:

Income	Britain	U.S.A.	Canada
$2,000	$108	$36	$60
$5,000	$1,090	$431.60	$630
$10,000	$3,260	$1,360.96	$1,930
$20,000	$9,610	$3,888.32	$6,040
$100,000	$85,910	$45,642	$36,013

There is a significant difference in this comparison beyond the obvious one of financial hardship.

Undoubtedly the lower income tax in the United States is one of the lures that attracts Canadian emigrants. Around 17 percent of the population of Canada, it is calculated, will move or is planning to move out of the country, mostly to the United States.

Retention of the high income tax, which remains almost at wartime level, is one of the factors that encourage this population drain.

Mexicans Infuriated Over Cattle Killing

AMARILLO, Texas.—Do you like to spring traps on your friends, and see if you can sting them as to their meanings? Then here is one we discovered in Texas—Aftosa.

It is the name for the dread hoof-and-mouth disease. And, believe you me, you hear plenty about hoof-and-mouth disease or read plenty about it in the news papers, mostly under its fancy name, Aftosa.

Mexico is the next-door neighbor of Texas—and Mexico is suffering from a nasty epidemic of Aftosa right now. Luckily for Mexico—and luckily for Texas and all points north, including Canada—the epidemic in Mexico is as mild in form as it is widespread.

It is being fought with great ardor by the Mexican government, assisted by his great friend and good neighbor, the United States. But it is always risky for neighbors to go into other people's homes, even to help. According to Texas reports, the repercussions of the Aftosa epidemic have seriously strained relations between the Mexican and American peoples—as distinguished from those of their governments.

Owners Paid For Animals
This is the story so far as it can be pieced together from Texas newspaper news.

The Mexican epidemic is so serious that 475,000 cattle and 150,000 smaller animals have so far had to be slaughtered on the spot.

According to the agreement, the U.S. was to pay indemnities for diseased cattle slaughtered—and this they did, in cash and promptly on the spot.

The average cash payment for cattle so slaughtered was $130. But the Mexican government was to pay for the smaller animals which had to be destroyed. They have been so slow in getting around to this that the masses of the impoverished peasants believe they have been robbed. They blame the American—or, more correctly, the American government—for they do not believe that the disease was or is the deadly thing the experts in all countries believe it to be.

The worst feature about the destruction campaign was a severe food shortage amongst the poorer classes in Mexico. These are among war-torn areas.

Hereabouts you hear stories of the magistrate addressed the prisoners charged with shop-breaking.

"Do you mean to tell the Court," he asked sternly, "that you broke into this grocer's establishment merely to get a pound of butter for breakfast?"

"Yes, gov'nor."

"Then please tell the Court what you were doing at the safe."

"Why, I was shaving in the two an' fourpence!"

American travellers having had to get out of small towns in Mexico in a hurry—for it was not safe for them to be where the slaughtered livestock were numbered in scores of thousands, and where both producers and consumers had suffered.

The epidemic in Mexico is said to be the Type A, which is a very mild form of the disease. But experts warn that the Type B, which is the most serious epidemic ever to attack, was of its kind in the United States in 1914-15, only 172,000 animals had to be slaughtered—a mere fraction of the millions so far destroyed in Mexico.

Baptists In For Hot Time
The hotels here all carry warning signs to keep away from Memphis, Tennessee, for the next few days. The Southern Baptists are having their annual convention and the hotels and rooming houses are long since sold out.

The leaders of the orthodox wing of the Southern Baptists have tried hard to find a basis for reconciliation with the Baptists in Russia, who have been opposed by scores of thousands. Some of their key leaders went to visit Moscow and one of the latest sent Stalin a pipe as a present.

The let's-be-friends-with-Russia-ism is a gay party, as well as opposed by the Rev. Frank Norris, who once shot and killed a visitor in the mistaken belief that the visitor was a dangerous gangster.

Norris was a close associate of the Rev. T. T. Shields of Toronto until he, Norris, made a personal visit to the Pope of Rome.

No Baptists are in for a hot time.

Wants Troops In Palestine

Editor, Bulletin.—The news that Canada's UN delegate voted against the American "cease fire" resolution for Palestine is highly disturbing, if not altogether unexpected.

Must the Canadian delegation forever follow, forever be the echo? The UN situation today cries out for some positive action from its individual member nations. For some action which means foregoing archaic notions of sovereignty. Canada could take this action, by transferring immediately a portion of her army to serve as the interim UN police force.

It costs Canada millions to maintain this army, here, a truly Christian use of an army. At least it will show one nation's love for UN and will shame the other nations into doing likewise.

AN UNHAPPY CANADIAN.

First Loyalty Is To Canada

Editor, Bulletin.—Jews outside of Israel will owe no political loyalty whatever to that state. The Jewish spirit, the product of their religion and experiences is essentially modern and essentially American. Not since the destruction of the Temple have the Jews in spirit and in ideals been so fully in harmony with the noblest aspirations of the country in which they live.

As for our own country, Canadians in all walks of life have paid eloquent tribute to the record of the Canadian Jewish community in the last war and to the courage and devotion which its sons and daughters showed as members of the armed forces.

As the Prime Minister stated in March 1947, the Canadian people shared with the fellow citizens of the Jewish race a sense of pride in the sacrifice and courage which that war record indicated.

Another Side To Sweepstakes

Editor, Bulletin.—I have rarely seen such an amount of misinformation sent me by those who favor sweepstakes and lotteries. They point out the "huge benefits" to the state and to the "poor unfortunate" by their "painless method of extraction."

The fact is, only a small proportion of the "take" from lotteries ever finds its way into charitable purposes. The rest goes to the state treasury, which provides adequate hospitalization for the "poor unfortunate" for five dollars per person per year; many times this amount would be spent in lotteries to yield the same amount available for hospitalization and other worthy purposes; if we had a conscience we would dig down and pay for our responsibilities willingly without having to be bribed into it by promise or raising funds by gambling that is economical and wasteful—the bulk of the money going to those who do not need it and do not want it. Many of the Christian people who are criticized for opposing lotteries are not those who are now quietly digging down and paying out voluntarily to support many of these charitable institutions.

Sick Nation Without Aid

Editor, Bulletin.—My country is suffering from birth-pains, and yet can't get any help. There are doctors and obstetricians available and they have been called in, but refuse to take the call.

What can this mean? Under the Hippocratic oath may a physician refuse to take the call of a distressed woman who is capable of rendering aid?

Previously, in this case not only did the doctor refuse to come, but gives wrong diagnosis without having first examined the patient.

The profession of medical politics has certainly fallen low in ethics and in tactics.

Unequal Burdens

Editor, Bulletin.—It would seem that the famous saying of Abraham Lincoln: "Government of the people, by the people, for the people" has been forgotten by our Liberal party in Ottawa when you refer to the "Budget" recently brought out by our finance minister.

Some little time ago the members of the House of Commons voted a resolution that the government should spend an extra $2,000,000 which sum was exempt from taxation and was levied on the members of the various political parties in either houses took place before the House.

At Ottawa, evidently what is "safer for the gander" is the "safer for the goose."

It seems from a practical business point of view that the "emptied amount" on personal income tax should vary from year to year according to the cost of living index rather than being based on living costs established during a previous decade.

During the past 10 years, those of us in the lower income brackets have had no opportunity to accumulate savings due to the high rate of inflation. The only relief is given in the near future to the taxpayer and the government makes some real endeavor to curtail its extravagance, the next generation will be added to the list of the "poor unfortunate" for "old age pensions."

I read with interest that the tax on "braille watches" had been eliminated—why such a tax was levied only parliament knows.

I would suggest that now the tax on alarm clocks has been reduced it would be in the interest of the "ganders" to have one installed at the desks of each member with central control so that they may be aware of the tax items when as they are levied before the House.

"WHITE COLLAR GANDER," Edmonton.

Great in peace as well as war, Smuts had created the league of Nations and made the treaty. Then when conflict once more swept over the world he took to the air as prime minister in South Africa and led his country to the support of England.

OUR TOWN

Henry Takes To Career of Crime

(When a man is waiting for his wife to have a baby and reads everything he can get his hands on. This explains why I have been recently perusing a large number of slick-paper magazines with a type of fiction, said to appeal to women. I remember none of these stories now, but the style of writing is not easy to forget. The following tale, then, is written under the influence of feminine fiction and with the usual apologies. As is customary, the title has nothing whatever to do with the story.)

Those few friends who know Henry Pludge intimately would have been shocked to their very eyes had they observed him now as he leaned across the table and started into the frightened face of his wife Emma.

"It's got to be done, Emma," he was saying, his eyes narrowed to mere slits, his mouth suddenly harsh. "It's just got to be done."

Emma stared back at him. Her mouth quivered. She would have braved and held back the torrent. Her voice trembled tremulously as she spoke.

"Oh, Henry," she cried, "you mustn't. You can't. Think what it will mean to us if..."

"If I caught!" Henry said with a bitter little laugh. "That, Emma, is the chance we must take."

Emma cringed at the edge in her husband's voice. Was this really her Henry—dear, lovable old Henry in the shiny blue serge suit, running to catch the bus each morning, playing with their little daughter, Mydway, drying the dishes for her every night?

But, no—the Henry Pludge who sat across from her now was a man of steel nerves born of desperation. There was a strangely cruel look in his pale blue eyes.

Suddenly Emma saw the way to the terrible despair in her heart, buried her face in her hands and wept bitter tears.

Henry's face softened for a moment. He longed to reach out and lay a comforting hand on his wife's shoulder, but some inner strength held him back. It is now or never, he said to himself.

"I am doing it, Emma," he said, and his voice was like steel. "I am robbing the bank."

Emma raised her tear-filled eyes to his. And suddenly they were in each other's arms, clinging desperately to each other.

Must Take The Chance
When she had regained her composure, Emma slipped into a turquoise blue housecoat which set off her dull golden hair and brushed aside her tears with a wisp of handkerchief.

Kansas City.—There are now seven prohibition states in the Union, with a combined population of more than ten millions.

The first Mounted Police party to patrol the north country from Edmonton to Hudson Bay left the city Monday in command of Inspector Pelletier.

He is the first medical man to go into the north with the intention of making his permanent residence there.

Paris.—After desperate resistance the French have evacuated square of lace brought back! They bought it together that glorious day in Langley Prairie in the full madness of the honeymoon. He remembered "It was handsome Henry had looked that day, so strong and masterful stride as he sat in his bicycle.

Henry's voice interrupted her reverent awe brought her harshly back into the present.

"Whatever happens you must never doubt me," he said. "His voice was suddenly tender. "Whatever I am doing I am doing for you."

"Oh, my darling," cried Emma. "But is this really necessary? Is there no other course open to us but..."

"None whatever," Henry said. "Emma," he lit a cigarette with trembling hands and stubbed it out.

But when will it be discovered, Henry? Emma's voice was now a low, steady, unbroken. "I knew what it meant to be a criminal and the realization of it," he said, with a shudder.

Henry raised himself to his feet, his face and body pale as the floor.

"It may be a month or it may be a year," he said. "But it is the chance we must take. Fortunately, I am trusted. It may not be long, but the same time of fate is kind to us I may be able to put the money back."

Emma dabbed pitifully at her eyes. Life was surely a cruel and unpredictable affair, she mused. One must take the bitter with the sweet.

Crafty Plotting

Abruptly Henry glanced at his watch. He suddenly seemed to have grown much older. "It is nearly time," he said, lighting a cigarette and stubbing it out. His eyes were staring.

Emma changed swiftly into a russet silk dressing gown which she had worn once before in her dark hair.

"You must be careful, my darling," she whispered, "I couldn't bear it if you were hurt."

"The plan is all prepared, my dear," Henry assured her. "Nothing will stop me now. Soon we will know again what it means to be a man."

He changed swiftly into a blue serge suit and brought out the shine on his pale, lit two cigarettes, stubbed them out and sprang nimbly to his feet.

"What about our little daughter, Mydway?" he asked. "Is she asleep?"

Emma darted silently to the nursery door.

"Sound asleep, poor little tyke," she reported.

Henry's eyes glared. The hard look in his eyes had returned. Again he was the cold-blooded master of crime. He took long strides he moved across the Pludge living room and began to undress.

Highlands Swings Into Golf Lead

Trims Rival Mayfair Team; Municipal Edges Country Club

Smoke from the battle of the McMullen Trophy began to clear Sunday and there appeared every likelihood the coveted golf emblem would again rest on the mantelpiece in the Highlands clubhouse.

Forces of the Mayfair, chief threat to the championship won last year by the Highlands, were given a rude jolt when they clashed with the champs.

Mayfair A team received the worst shaking up, collecting only four points out of 50 on the grounds of the defenders. The B's fared slightly better, but when the combined totals were added Highlands had 63 to 37 and a 22-point edge after two week-ends of play.

Municipal pushed the Country Club down deeper in the cellar by taking a 57-43 decision.

Highlands is on top with 129, Mayfair is second with 107, Municipal third with 91 and Country Club fourth with 73.

Gale Grounds Pests

None of the courses were sprayed to combat the mosquito menace, but the little pests remained close to the grassy roads, due mainly to the high gale.

Highlands, which was the only course not sprayed a week ago, was also reasonably free of the tormentors. Manager Fern Wood attributed the truce to the possibility that mosquitoes from his course had gone to attend the funerals of their winged brothers slain a week ago on other links.

Although the "A" Highlanders mauled their rivals from the other side of the green, a scoring handicap, their were some closely-fought battles before a decision was reached.

For instance, the brothers Henry and Burns Martell were taken to the 18th hole before disposing of Ted West and Peter Olynk. It was a birdie-sprinkled match, with the Martells heading for home with a one-up margin.

A putting duel decided another ding-dong affair. Leo Leclair canned a 15-putt on the 16th to place his name and partner, Eddie Morel of Mayfair, on even terms with Charlie Smith and Eddie Morel of Mayfair. Then on the 17th Smith rapped in a 25-putt for a half with the Highlands pair.

It looked like a division of points on the last green "Hill Lane" a 30-putt for a birdie three and the match.

Out at the Country Club "Helme" Goertz and B. Greer pulled five points out of the fire. Dornie terms, they took the next three holes from Hammy Drever and Ralph Jones to finish all square.

Esks' Blast Out 25-0 Win; Buffs Chase Cubs Twice

Bruins Make Dismal Show With Hickory

By Stan Mohr

Not even the presence in the lineup of Dick Latiff could save Cubs in their week-end Big Four League skirmishes against Calgary Buffs.

The Motormen twice were given the complete treatment by Jimmy Gibson's horde, Saturday-Sunday scores being respectively, 3-3 and 4-2.

Latiff, a fiery three-sacker who played in that was known as the City Senior Circuit season 1946, just happened into baseball headquarters Saturday afternoon. He was hardly seated when Laurel Harney had his name on a Cub contract.

There was no denying that defensively Latiff went in great style for the Harneymen. He has a rifle-like arm; it was never seen to better advantage.

But like most of the rest of his mates, the hot corner outfielder couldn't do a thing against the brand of pitching served up by a trio of Buff choppers. Youthful troubadour Pete Younle and Jackie Stover, toiled in Saturday's encounter, and Lloyd Bradley, a fast-moving artist sent all the way Sunday afternoon.

7 HITLESS TRIPS

In all Latiff went hither in seven trips in the early going only to quickly cool out when it came time to atone to their run total.

Jimmy Gibson's hurler went to the mound for the locals to start the Saturday tilt. In the second inning Bernate's single and a double by the dangerous Al Superstein sparked a Cub rally good for two runs.

However, Purvis, a promising long-hauler, ran into grief in the fourth frame when the Buffs clicked for four runs while sending him red hot. That was the inning that won Saturday's game for the visitors.

Sunday was much the same story. Cubs, off an error at short by "Chuck" Strouger and safe knocks from the stick of Steve Bernate and Al Superstein, tallied twice in the opening inning.

They 'Moldered' Purity

That 25-0 lambasting which Esks handed out to the league-leading Purities in Calgary Saturday night will provide plenty of hot-stove fuel for a long time to come. Fans at this end heard in disbelief . . . and well they might. It was recognized that Purities—more so somewhat fortunate to have gone so long while suffering but one setback—were due for a beating.

But no one figured the Oilers would carry it to such lengths.

In dishing out the giant-size hot foot to the Oilers, Ed Morris and his Esks must forevermore rate alongside other Edmonton aggregations and individuals which have rapped it to Cowtown representatives in the past.

Once upon a time the late Deacon White's griddiron Eskimos vanquished Calgary Tigers by 72-2. Certain of our junior hockey teams have registered lopsided triumphs at the expense of challengers from the south. What Percy Page's Grads did to Calgary basketball teams on occasions has still green in the memory of court fans of the 1920's and '30's.

In the field of golf Henry Martell, in his amateur days, just had to take his 'sticks' out of the locker and any Calgary shotmakers on the premises had hit it.

Now the turn of the Esks . . . and they do it up in 25-0 style. Imagine what Buffalo Stadium fans must have been thinking before it was over!

Homers 'Cheap' at Buffalo Stadium

No wonder Esks went under by 4-2 in a subsequent Sunday game. They were probably all in from running the bases in their record-breaking effort.

Bill Price, for instance, rapped out five safe walks in six trips. Also he circled the runways five times, as did lanky Jack McGill.

It wasn't a ball game. It was a track meet.

Actually Esks were unlucky not to come back from the south with two wins to their credit in three starts. They lost a heart-breaker Friday night when the puck star, Archie Wilder, blasted a two-run homer in the bottom of the ninth to give Purities a 6-5 win.

Of course it's one thing to hit over the wall at Buffalo Stadium (where, as the athletes inelegantly put it: 'you can spit over any of the fences') and something else again to do the same thing at Renfrew Park.

Which, of course, is a good reason why the home run king of the Big Four Loop will almost certainly turn up in a Buffalo or Purity monkey suit.

At Superstein and Strouglor, Too

At Renfrew the Cubs accomplished nothing beyond making two close fights of it while going under as many times to the solid Buffaloes.

Crying need of Motormen is a replacement or two with a pencil for hitting the long ball . . . when teammates are panicking to be driven home off the runways. Only Doug Stevenson and Al Superstein, a pair of vastly improved swatmen since last season, have been able to turn on the power with any consistency.

Right now Superstein is the best of the Cub cast. If he could learn to throw ahead, the runner he'd be tough to beat anywhere in west semi-pro circles.

Vern Callahan and Al Purvis, youthful hurlers, looked promising in Saturday's game. Both might prove highly useful before the season concludes, particularly if that power materializes and their teammates get them some runs.

To conclude we intrude 'Chuck' Strouglor, Buff shortstop, into the picture. First time we got a gander at the lanky infielder we labeled him 'good field, no hit'.

So what has Strouglor done to live up to the rating? Nothing . . . nothing at all. In fact he has yet to go hitless in 11 games and his stick mark is a gaudy .326.

Jet Hurler Whiffs 22 Vets in Fastball Tie

Ted Filipowicz, ace RCAF Jet right-hander, marked one up in the battle at Kingsway Park Sunday afternoon when he fanned 22 Anavet clouters in 14 innings. The scoreboard read 5-5 when the game was called.

Mulling also told the story in the second bill, with Bill Wood, of Legionnaires, tossing three-hit ball at Precision Motors to win his second-straight game. Score was 30-4. Wood's transfer has been officially recognized by the executive as of May 23. This allows his no-hit no-run game against RCAF recently to go into the record books.

Filipowicz, a tall, well-built, moustangman who has plenty of speed, gave by far his best performance while fogging them in Sunday. He allowed but four walks, and also proved wicked with the hickory, blasting a single and a double in four tries.

Oran Yandell also went the route for Anavets, whiffing eight jets and walking a trio. It was a nip and tuck battle throughout. The Airman forged into a 3-0 margin after the second inning, but Anavets working in the top of a 4-0 count in the fourth.

A two-run upturn, in the seventh gave Jets a one-man edge, but Stan McGrevey scored to tie up the game in the bottom of the ninth. From there on out it was a scoreless bating duel.

Tripled by Emory Long and Sam Stevenson featured a four-run inning that started Legionnaires on their victory march in the third inning. Behind Wild Bill Onischuck, Precision moundsman, could quell the attack. Long, Bill Stevenson, Ralph Hanch and Bill Feeney had trotted across the pan.

Bill Wood was right down the middle all afternoon while limiting the Machines to three hits and three bingles. He threw scoreless ball for the last six frames.

Ralph Hanch, who guards the keystone for Legion, had a good day with the hickory, beating three airties in five times up.

Mike Dediluk Belts 2 Homers In SS Ball Tilt

Mike Dediluk toted the big bat as SS Business Men bombarded three Arcade hurlers for a decisive 10-4 triumph in a South Side Intermediate Men's Football League encounter at the Athletic grounds Sunday afternoon.

"Big" Mike connected for a pair of circuit clouts, one good for two runs in the third inning, and the other a three-run blast in the sixth, that highlighted the loosely-played tilt.

Business Men went berserk in the third and sixth innings scoring four and seven runs, respectively. Arcade had their inning in the second when they rounded the sacks for five tallies. Otherwise they were weak with the stick and on the mound.

Kilburn's Leafs Shade Ha' Pruden and CNR 2-1

By Dick Beddoes

The Maple Leafs beat Ha' Pruden, and Pruden more or less beat himself, at Clarke Stadium Sunday.

A crowd of 100 saw the blueshirts edge Pruden and the CNR 2-1, but only after what eventually became the winning run.

In junior circles Ha' Pruden mangled EAC 11-1 in the second half of the junior baseball doubleheader.

British Friend Of Hitler Is Dead

Unity Freeman-Mitford Once
Centre of Wide Speculation

By Alvin J. Steinkopf

OBAN, Scotland, May 31.—(AP)—Unity Freeman-Mitford, 33, centre of a storm of speculation at the beginning of the Second World War because of her friendship with Hitler, died Saturday night.

Miss Freeman-Mitford, the daughter of Baron Redesdale, became ill a few days ago at the home of her parents on the island of Inchmarnock. A friend of the family said her death was believed to have been caused by meningitis.

In Germany, near Hitler's Berchtesgaden retreat at the beginning of the war, she was seriously wounded by a pistol shot in the head under circumstances never publicly explained.

UNCONSCIOUS THREE WEEKS
She was unconscious three weeks in a Munich hospital. Top German physicians attended her on Christmas eve, 1939. Hitler arranged to send her home. On his orders, an ambulance train took her to a French channel port and the British government allowed her to join her family.

In England she recovered speedily from her wound. Her English friends said it was an accident. In Germany it was known that she had seen Hitler on several occasions in those tense days immediately preceding the German attack on Poland and the British declaration of war on Germany. She had been a guest at his retreat in the Bavarian Alps.

Miss Freeman-Mitford first went to Germany in 1935, when she was 20, to attend a Nazi summer festival. She was accompanied by her sister, Diana, who later married Sir Oswald Mosley, pre-war British Fascist leader. Unity was quoted in Germany at the time as saying she was a "woman Fascist" and she praised the reichschancellor.

Friends said her friendship with

Hitler resulted from common artistic interests. She approved Hitler's support of the theatre, his efforts to paint and his love of music. In Hitler's circle at the time it was said that the future spoke of the young English visitor as an "ideal nordic type."

300 Likely to Seek Ontario House Seats

TORONTO, May 31.—(CP)—This is official nomination day in Ontario. Indications are that when nominations close the number of candidates contesting the 90 seats in the Ontario election June 7 will be almost 300.

In 88 constituencies nominations close at 1 p.m. CDT. In the other two, Kenora and rainy river in northwestern Ontario, the close comes an hour later.

A few late starters are expected to file papers today while in some constituencies last-minute changes probably will be made. An unofficial compilation by the Canadian Press, based on information from political party headquarters and nominating conventions, showed that up to last night nearly 290 candidates were nominated.

Woman Disappears From Aboard Ship

WINNIPEG, May 31.—(CP)—Cunard White Star Line officials here today said that Mrs. E. W. S. Muir reported missing from their liner Ascania which docked yesterday at Liverpool, was not a "Winnipegger, Manitoban or Canadian."

Mrs. Muir recently had booked in at their office with the "return east of the capital in Ibaragi prefecture. No damage was reported from either."

ALBERTA-BORN GIRL IS BLOSSOM QUEEN

KENTVILLE, N.S., May 31.—(CP)—A brief interlude of sunshine broke through overcast skies here Saturday to mark the crowning of the Annapolis Valley's queen of the blossom festival.

The queen—blonde, Alberta-born Doris Parr of Middleton, N.S.—was chosen Friday from among 12 candidates nominated to represent each of the towns in the valley which was bereft of blossoms for the festival.

She was crowned by Maj.-Gen. Harry W. Foster, general officer commanding eastern army command. The ceremony followed an ancient ritual based on the crowning of King Alfred of England nearly 1,200 years ago.

Overhead a squadron of aircraft from RCAF station at nearby Greenwood roared in salute while the Canadian Navy band from Halifax provided the music for the setting.

Gavilan May Get Shot at Robinson

NEW YORK, May 31.—(AP)—Kid Gavilan's stunning one-round knockout of Rocco Rosano Saturday night probably means a summer title shot for the Cuban contender with Welter champ Ray Robinson.

That's what Sol Strauss, acting promoter of the Twentieth Century Sporting Club, has in mind. As Gavilan, who handles Robinson's business affairs,

Huge Pulp Mill Forecast For Red Deer District

Establishment of a multi-million dollar pulp mill at Red Deer is foreseen here today.

Negotiations have already commenced for a 160-acre site within the city limits, mill site within the city limits.

Cellulose Engineers Incorporated of Seattle, said to be supported by eastern American and Canadian financiers, are conducting the negotiations with the city and with the provincial authorities.

A group of engineers representing the company left Red Deer Saturday to make a survey of the timber lands north-west of the city.

E. S. Heutsa, acting provincial forestry director, said today that the company is making a survey of the timber lands north-west of the city.

The application would be accompanied by a deposit.

Following an inspection of the proposed timber lands by government officials the timber rights on the tracts selected would be offered for sale by public auction.

Mr. Heutsa said the appearance of the "Call for Tenders" for the sale of timber rights would be the next public indication of the company's interest in the timber lands.

R. O. Sweeney, Montreal financier, is interested in other timber tracts in the province. It has been suggested the Sweeney group may establish pulp plants either at Edmonton or Calgary.

It's the fastest a home in Edmonton has ever been painted—24 minutes and 35 seconds.

Saturday afternoon 29 members of the Edmonton Junior Chamber of Commerce covered themselves, and the home of plumber-helper Herbert Sewers, 10248 146 street, with a new coat of paint in record time.

Operation Paintbrush was splashed through by the Jaycees as part of their "Beautify Your Edmonton" campaign now in progress.

They also wanted to beat a recent Winnipeg house-painting record of 14 minutes and three seconds.

They didn't beat that record, but they had a lot of fun giving Mr. Sewers' 20-by-30 foot bungalow a green and white face-lift.

The Jaycees arrived at the scene of operations Saturday afternoon armed with paint brushes, yards of wiping cloth, dungarees, an assortment of old clothes and seven and one-half gallons of house paint.

The paint was donated by Edmonton Paint and Glass Co. Ltd. and the G. F. Stephens and Co. Ltd.

Professional painter William Nicholson was on hand to assist the amateurs with pre-painting techniques (cleaning brushes and the house).

At 3:25 p.m. they got the "go" signal from this reporter, who represented The Bulletin as official timekeeper.

In nothing flat they were busier than a threshing machine. Brushes were going faster than a fiddler with a live wire.

In six minutes two sides of the house were finished, and the brush-wielders from stage sides scooted to the assistance of the painters on the rest of the house.

A sort of organized turmoil reigned. "Move over, I got a big area to cover."

"Yeah, part of it's me."

One Jaycee was standing directly below another on a ladder. The first one yelled: "Isn't it over me that you splash paint all over me. I don't want to hang me on the head with your bucket!"

"Quiet," yelled back the other, "I got everything in sight."

One Jaycee stayed in the house throughout the whole operation. "It was safe," she said.

Edward McLean had green feet—red removed his shoes and socks to a better stage on the roof. But by 3:45 p.m. Mr. and Mrs. Sewers and their five kiddies were out in the yard admiring their revamped home.

The Edmonton Jaycees are going to beat the Winnipeg Jaycees. "We have to get organized," we were told by Ted Arledge, Jaycee first vice-president, who acted as "timekeeper" during Operation Paintbrush.

"Then we'll beat 'em next year."

Regular monthly meeting of the Edmonton Liberal Association will be held Tuesday at 8 p.m. in the LOOF hall on 103 street. Speaker will be J. Harper Proulx, M.L.A.

THE FATAL DAY ROLLS ROUND ONCE AGAIN

That day is here again!

Today is the last day for filing of income tax returns and federal officials warn that penalty for lateness is payment of a fine; five per cent of unpaid tax, with a minimum of $5 and a maximum of $500.

G. W. Northfield, director of Edmonton Income Tax Branch, told The Bulletin today that "a lot of applications were received this month" by the Edmonton offices.

Number of income tax forms filed here is reported as "fairly heavy," but with none of the last-minute "crash" common in former years.

Reason for this is the 31-day extension granted by the federal government in April to allow residents of flooded districts more time to file their returns.

Mr. Northfield stated that a "large number of farmers" is included in returns filed this month in Edmonton.

Yellowhead Pass Route Is Boosted

An appeal for a flood of letters to the federal government calling for the construction of a Trans-Alberta highway through the Yellowhead Pass was made by Doug Homersham at the meeting of the Kiwanis Club in the Macdonald hotel Monday.

Canada is one of the few countries without a coast to coast highway. Mr. Homersham said, and the strategic position of the Blue River warrants such an outlet for the safety of the people.

This is the only feasible low-altitude route through the mountains, with the exception of the Texas Panhandle, he said. The pass is 1,700 feet lower than the Kicking Horse Pass and 800 feet lower than the Crooked Pass.

Other advantages of the Yellowhead route, Mr. Homersham added, lie in the fact that it may easily be extended to Prince Rupert from McRae, B.C., and also will afford access to the Yukon.

Ronald Martland was chairman for the meeting in the absence of President Walter Sprague.

Six Weeks Course For Supervisors July and August

Recreational supervisors in Alberta will be attending a six-week course in Red Deer in July and August.

This is part of the Dominion provincial recreational project, renewal of which was announced in Ottawa over the week-end.

Under the scheme the province of Alberta is granted nearly $15,000 a year in the promotion of recreational activity within provincial boundaries.

Clearing House

Clearing house totals in Edmonton for May amounted to $62,940.56.

The total for the same month last year was $56,746,212.

ANTIQUE HOSE CART WINS RACE TO FIRE

SCHOLARSHIPS FUND RECEIVED BY ALBERTA U.

Total of $500 to be used for scholarships has been received by the University of Alberta.

This sum is part of $4,500 given to nine Canadian universities by the University of Alberta.

A slight increase in the number of scholarships has been received by the University of Alberta.

Money received by U of A is to be used for scholarships in the faculty of medicine. It was stated by Dr. J. J. Ower, dean of the medical faculty.

A group of engineers representing the company left Red Deer Saturday to make a survey of the timber lands north-west of the city.

The application would be accompanied by a deposit.

Following an inspection of the proposed timber lands by government officials the timber rights on the tracts selected would be offered for sale by public auction.

Mr. Heutsa said the appearance of the "Call for Tenders" for the sale of timber rights would be the next public indication of the company's interest in the timber lands.

R. O. Sweeney, Montreal financier, is interested in other timber tracts in the province. It has been suggested the Sweeney group may establish pulp plants either at Edmonton or Calgary.

Rail traffic between the Pacific Coast and Alberta is still tied up today and transcontinental airlines are under pressure into service Sunday to fly passengers stranded in Alberta to Vancouver.

City Shops Lemon-Shy 'Til Thursday Next

By Bea Thrifty

Everyone loves to complain! This time it's "no lemons in the stores" that we are complaining about.

For some reason or other there won't be any until next Thursday.

Asked half a dozen or so storekeepers why they had none—and got the same answer everywhere I turned.

A shrug of the shoulders and a philosophical smile. "Oh well—if we weren't short of lemons it would be something else—so why get excited about the lemons?"

There is something holding back the price decrease of hot-house tomatoes. This week-end was to have seen them selling in the stores for as low as 35c a pound—wonder what the hold-up is!

All locally-grown produce will be at least two or three weeks late this year.

Some strawberries grown in local greenhouses have reached a ripe maturity—but none have arrived in the market stalls.

Small gem of know-how: When a cane-seated porch chair gets loose in the centre, all you have to do is wash the cane-seat with hot water and let dry outdoors and the seat will tighten again.

Lemon pie filling with natural tangy flavor comes in a package. No lemon to squeeze—no doubt about the right amount of thickening. You just add egg, sugar and water, then cook until thickened.

Unbelievably good—handy little item to have gracing your pantry shelf—inexpensive, too.

Table trousseau essentials for the sweet 'n' lovely young bride include things like a breakfast set of knives for at least four places—plus a small platter, small vegetable dish, sugar bowl and cream pitcher—all in the same pattern.

At least half a dozen dinner plates, dessert plates, bread and butter plates and soup cups or plates.

Then of course—silver or silver-plate place settings for at least half a dozen—with some flatware for kitchen use—if the pennies need pinning.

Showers always yield a goodly supply of pretty fruit juice glasses and water tumblers.

Fine wedding gift to receive is half dozen crystal or fine glass wine goblets—and from another friend in need—half a dozen matching checker glasses.

These should be in an open pattern so they can be added to when the budget allows.

We can't ignore those linens for breakfast and lunches—two double-place mat settings with matching serviettes should do the trick.

And be sure to pick out colors to set off the colored pottery breakfast set of dishes.

For dinner—four place-mat settings with matching or contrasting napkins—one small tablecloth in linen or rayon damask.

Then for entertaining you should have one large cloth for dinner or buffet serving—with matching napkins.

Manufacturers have surpassed themselves in the novelty glassware field. There is a tremendous outlay of smart, attractive and inexpensive glasses in the stores.

One set of eight tall highball glasses—complete with old-English letters for identification—sold for $3.50.

WHY GROW OLD

Hair Style Must Suit Hair Type

Although many of us would like to copy Rita Hayworth's smart short cut, it would be a mistake to choose such a coiffure without considering the texture of your hair.

By Josephine Lowman

It is always exciting for one who constantly searches for ideas about health and beauty, to find suggestions which are new and helpful! DeLeo, New York hair stylist, believes firmly in two ideas which are new to me, and certainly are not widespread!

Mr. DeLeo likes hair to follow the shape of the face and says that selection of hair style must be made in the same way in which a designer chooses a style to fit a material.

Different types and textures of hair take better to certain styles and he feels it is a mistake to choose a coiffure without taking hair type into consideration.

Mr. DeLeo said, "A fashion designer does not try to make a nightgown out of tweed nor does he expect to get the same effect from moire as from tulle."

He knows that satin falls in a certain way, crepe in another, and jersey in a third, and he suits his effect to his material. In the same way, you must not force your hair or attempt to distort the hair fabric with which you are working."

Many factors make up hair fabric: whether it is fine or coarse, straight or curly, sparse or heavy, springy or limp, dry or oily. All of these have an effect on a coiffure.

Next, this hair stylist thinks that thinning, contrary to common practice, should be used with the greatest discretion. Thinning like punching holes in a fabric, weakens the material. It seems there are many ways of shaping and cutting that will eliminate the necessity for thinning.

He said, "I have seen many heads with a beautiful natural wealth of hair lose richness because of this practice. Others look anaemic and limp, without body."

You, like me, have no doubt suffered from too much thinning, when you stood in front of a window after a haircut and could see the light through your short curls.

It seems to me that it would be a fine idea to experiment with your individual hair texture to discover what it will and will not do. Then discuss it with your hairdresser. Also, suggest that you would like as little thinning as possible.

If you wish to have my leaflet which gives you rules for styling hair according to facial contour, send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for leaflet No. 31, "Framing Your Face Attractively," to Josephine Lowman in care of this newspaper.

YOUR BABY AND MINE

New Fears Acquired As Old Ones Fade

By Myrtle Meyer Eldred

No one can grow up in this big, complex world and never feel any fears. The mother who says, "My children fear nothing," has forgotten, or is unaware of the methods she used to allay or dispel her children's fears.

They show it by the way in which they jump, their hands fly upward and their china teacups, when they are exposed to loud noises. They are exposed to loud noises. They jump when they hear loud voices, when dogs bark, when a door bangs or a telephone rings close to them.

The radio turned on loudly or a vacuum cleaner fill them with fear. As they outgrow their initial sensitivity to noise they may still fear the object which has made the noise. Sometimes this seems senseless to the parent who knows so well that the object is without danger.

Children acquire new fears as they lose the old ones. They become more cognizant of the dangers about them. They are warned not to walk or ride with strangers. They hear mysterious whispers about death, and see its accompanying sorrow. They become ill and note that parents worry about them. Parents are sick or have accidents and go to the hospital, bringing about a separation which makes the child anxious and fearful.

It is when the child goes to bed at night that his multiple fears swarm over him. In the dark room his imagination can run riot. Since he does not know the cause of the emotions he suffers he tries to attach them to some tangible shape to give them meaning. He becomes fearful of bears or tigers under the bed.

He has heard of Indians and he sees them in every dark corner. The form isn't important, it is just that he must have some tangible reason for feeling as he does, so he says, "I saw a lion under the bed."

Crawling under the bed to hunt for the lion won't banish the fear. That makes it worse because his mother seems to take him seriously. What he needs is to be soothed, to be told his parents are there to protect him and nothing will happen to him.

He needs to be shown that he is much loved and needed in this family and that his fears do not make him a coward, but all children feel this way.

Keep on the light. Leave the door open. Work to give the child a larger sense of security and the later fears, like the early ones, will evaporate with age and greater self-confidence.

Our leaflet, "Common Childhood Fears," may be had by sending a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request to Myrtle Meyer Eldred in care of this newspaper.

DOROTHY DIX SAYS—
Self-Centred Women Lose All Friends

DEAR MISS DIX: We have two women friends who are very wealthy. They have a lovely home and two cars, but for all of that they are grumpy. They accept invitations to luncheons, bridge parties, etc., but they never feel that they are called on to entertain. They always use the other fellow's car. Everyone is expected to do nice things for them, but they never do anything for anyone else.

The friends of these women are getting mighty tired of being used and have about decided to drop them unless they show more willingness to do their part. Don't you think we are right?

ANSWER: I certainly do. Selfishness should be met with selfishness. The friends of these women should be just as selfish as they are and refuse to be victimized by them.

There is no merit in suffering yourself to be held up and robbed.

YEARS OF HAPPINESS are in store for James (Bud) MacPherson and his pretty bride, the former Marjorie Anne McJeau. Bud, member of the Flyers Hockey Club, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. MacPherson of Edmonton. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. E. McJeau of this city.

More to Photography Than a Pretty Smile

It's not as simple as looking at the birdie and saying "cheese."

Not that simple to city photographers and they're the people in the know. Photographs may be source of amusement or pleasure. But when it comes to having one's picture taken it's well to know the do's and don'ts.

An artificial subject is the photographer's pet peeve. Naturalness is his chief delight.

Hair, newly permuted, ornamented with brilliant combs, face hidden under a layer of heavy make-up, build printed dress lavishly trimmed with sequins; that is a photographer's nightmare.

Simplicity and naturalness are the keys to a successful picture.

Hair should be brushed till it is shining, combed thoroughly with short ends lacquered and in place. Light picks up stray ends making them doubly noticeable in the final print.

Extreme hair styles should be avoided. What is desired is a style flattering to the subject.

Slightly oily makeup is preferable to that which is dry or heavy. Use of cosmetics should be centered round the mouth and eyes. Rouge is to be avoided.

In applying lipstick the natural outline of the mouth should be followed. Deception is a sin in a photograph.

Over accentuated eyebrows—lightly pencilled are taken, say the photographers. What they do want are eyebrows brushed into a smooth line.

Just as important as hair and face are clothes. Loud prints are exactly what the photographer doesn't want.

Sequins—odds of jewelry—odds of cut glass necklaces are further don'ts on the list.

Yet, the story is not completed yet. Fussy mothers, especially mothers-in-law, are abhorred by the cameraman. Necessary for children's pictures, they are a pesky nuisance when adults are being photographed.

A girl old enough to be married is old enough to be alone when her wedding pictures are being taken.

Passing irritates the subject—the photographer too.

Such is the cameraman's tale.

Olive Headrick Wed In Vegreville Church

VEGREVILLE, May 27.—In a recent wedding ceremony in Vegreville United Church Olive Marguerite Headrick became the bride of James Hatter.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wesley A. Headrick and the bridegroom is the son of John Hatter, Lake Cowichan.

The Rev. Hart Caneton performed the ceremony. Jean Gibson played the wedding music and during the signing of the register Mrs. E. G. Laing was soloist.

Given in marriage by her father the bride wore a dress of ivory satin fashioned with a sweetheart neckline and long sleeves. Her French veil was fastened with a coronet of orange blossoms and seed pearls and she carried a bouquet of gladioli and lily-of-the-valley.

Jean Nuteche, Vancouver, attended the bride as bridesmaid. Stanley Headrick was best man and ushers were Lawrence Hinton and Joseph Tunis.

Receiving at a reception were the bride's mother and the bridegroom's Godmother, Mrs. E. G. Hatter.

Four-tier wedding cake flanked by white tapers and flowers centered the bride's table. Toast to the bride was proposed by H. H. Hatter.

For a honeymoon trip the bride wore a winter-white suit with accessories and gardenias and time carriage. Mr. and Mrs. Hatter will reside in Vancouver.

Out-of-town guests were John Hatter, Mrs. E. G. Hatter, Lake Cowichan, Mrs. J. W. Wilde, Mrs. J. H. Burton, Mrs. A. J. Behrens, Kay Coons, Alice Carter and Warren Bailey, Edmonton.

Business Venture Made Rapid Strides

From Modest Start Young
Veteran Now Has Big Business

A small plumbing and heating business which originated in the rear of an old garage and blossomed into a $10,000 establishment in 16 months is the success story of J. T. "Jack" Mercer, Edmonton airforce veteran.

The new streamlined place of business will be officially opened today. It will mark the culmination of a goal set by Proprietor

J. T. "JACK" MERCER

J. T. "Jack" Mercer, seven-years ago. On May 29, 1941, Mercer, then a lad of 17, gave up his studies at Eastwood high school to take an apprenticeship position with B. A. McPherson and Heating Co.

INSPIRED WITH AMBITION

He had decided he wished to follow the plumbing and heating vocation. His enthusiasm for his chosen life's work continued to grow and he soon was inspired with the ambition of owning his own place of business.

The work really appealed to me and when I discovered I was doing so well at it I suddenly got the urge to make my life's goal, a shop of my own," said Mercer.

World War II put a temporary clamp on his ambitions. He enlisted for active service in the army in October, 1943, and after a short spell with the "doughboys" he re-mustered to the airforce blue, serving with the RCAF until November, 1945, when he was demobilized.

He immediately returned to his pre-war plumbing and heating position and with funds saved from his earnings, together with his war-time gratuities he started in business for himself on January 5, 1947.

MODEST BEGINNING

"I first opened shop in an old garage at the rear of 10720 95 street 16 months ago," said Mercer. Fortunately, thanks to proper newspaper advertising and a couple of friends' business junked up and continued to grow steadily, so much so it became practically impossible to cope with it at the shop. I then planned to enlarge the business, bought a lot and gradually got things together until this new shop was finally completed," he added.

Mercer plans to retain his original place of business.

OLD SHOP LUCKY

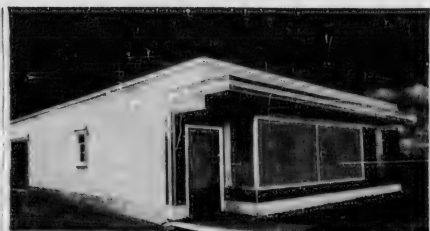

"The old shop brought me luck and I became sort of attached to it," he said. "Don't exactly know what I'll use it for offhand but I'll probably serve as a storage and warehouse."

Mercer was born in Edmonton on January 16, 1924. He received his grade school education at Cromdale and took his high school tutoring at Eastwood.

He is married and with wife, Olga, son Jackie 2 and daughter Peggy 1, lives at 11315 81 street.

Tb. Head Named

OTTAWA, May 31.—(CP)—Dr. Bruce Hopkins of Kingston Friday night was named president of the Canadian Tuberculosis Association at the annual meeting here. He succeeds Dr. Roland Desmeules of Quebec city.

MODERN IN EVERY WAY is new J. T. Mercer Plumbing and Heating establishment, situated at 10640 95 Street, which officially opens for business today. Erected at cost of $10,000, new store will house a complete line of equipment and appliances.

Modern Plumbing Shop Has Complete Stocks

Edmonton's most modern plumbing and heating establishment is that of J. T. Mercer, situated at 10630 95 street.

Open for business for the first time today, the new store, besides being constructed and decorated along most modern designs, houses a complete line of plumbing, heating, and refrigeration equipment and appliances.

It is the ambition of the proprietor to carry a full stock of supplies. "There isn't anything more harmful to business and more annoying to the prospective customer than to tell them you haven't the goods they require," said owner Mercer.

COMPLETE STOCK

"Therefore it is my intention to stock as much equipment as possible and carry every line that's available on the present day market."

Mercer, who built his present business in 16 months, has an eye to the future.

He actually started in the plumbing and heating profession seven years ago.

He credits his success to making certain that every job he undertakes is done to the utmost satisfaction of the customer.

"It is no secret that all business men strive toward pleasing the customer but many of them forget to follow their promises through thus establishing ill-feeling and in many cases cancelling further business relations. We aim to please and every job must satisfy."

ATTRACTIVE DISPLAY

An attractive open front show window and display room gives an appealing appearance to the new Mercer establishment.

Modern lighting, heating and air conditioning equipment has been installed. The decorative design is the last word in fashionable coloring and a green battleship linoleum covers the floor. The fixtures are of bleached fir in natural varnish finish.

A compact but adequate office and business counter has been appropriately erected in the far corner of the building to give more space to the attractive merchandise display.

The rear of the premises is the workshop, and supply depot, where repairs are attended to and plumbing and heating equipment stored. The new shop is compact but complete and modern in every way.

Big Crane Topples, Two Men Killed

PARLY SOUND, Ont. May 31.—(CP)—Two men were killed Friday night and two others injured, one critically, when a giant Canadian National Railway crane tumbled 96 feet to railway tracks. The crane was thrown off balance just after it had lifted a 36-ton steel girder in place. Dead are George Stonehouse, 59, of Toronto, crane operator, and Edward Heidre, 40, foreman.

The Tuggenburgh is the most popular breed of goat in America. It originated in Switzerland.

Sailor Can Take Leave Via Window

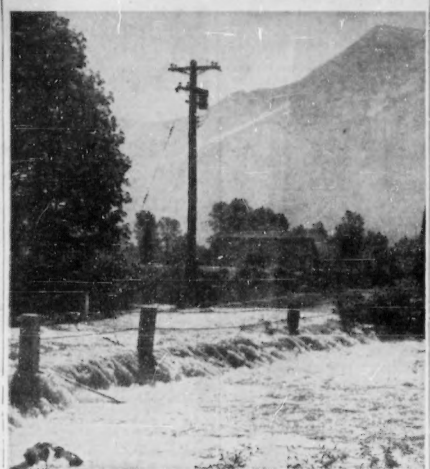

NEW YORK, May 31.—(CP)—So far as the court is concerned, a sailor—who is not drunk—has every right in the world to jump out of a lady's bedroom window, that is, if his only other means of exit is barred by the lady's boy friend.

The court so ruled Saturday in ordering the sailor's employer to pay him $187.50 in addition to the hospital bills and wages they paid while he spent 56 days in hospital.

Eino Koljonen, a Finnish seaman, said the incident occurred at Split, Yugoslavia, two years ago. The judge ruled sympathetically about the rights of distressed seamen in foreign ports.

"The window was the only solution . . . in the emergency," the court said.

"Had he elected to go out the door with the threatening man there barring his way, his injuries might have been more dire and serious . . . At least he's still alive."

FLOODED HIGHWAYS brought road transportation to a standstill in the Agassiz area of B. C. when Fraser River waters went rampant.

Sifton Stable Wins Honors

SASKATOON, May 31.—(CP)—Misty Morn and The Witch were declared champion and reserve champion hunter at Saturday's closing night of the Saskatoon Light Horse Show. Sifton stable entries from Winnipeg, they thus duplicated their success at the recent Edmonton show.

Champion and reserve jumpers were Bouncing Buster, 18-year-old entry of the Lilla Gord stables, Regina, and one of his stable mates, Paddy Bony.

A big thrill was the jump-off for the knock-down-and-out jump. Trigger, with Ken Argus of Rouleau up, ousted Buster from first money.

Champion saddle horse of the show was Lassie, American saddle bred, owned by Harry Lyons, Saskatoon, and ridden by Mrs. Paula O'Reilly. Rose Dawn, another Saskatoon entry, ridden by Mrs. J. H. Evans, was reserve.

Lassie also was shown as champion American bred, with Senator Clapham, owned by W. C. Childs, Regina.

Another victory for Lassie, who it was announced at the show, has been sold to Dr. J. R. B. Rasmussen of Regina, was the Brewer's special for best saddle horse.

The Sifton stables scored again in the middle heavyweight hunter class, Misty Morn and Clootie placing first and third. Colonel White of Cross Kelvin Grove stables placing second, and Paddy Bony fourth.

In the handy hunter class, Bouncing Buster placed first, followed by Colonel White, The Witch, and Paddy Bony.

H. L. Phillips's Gay Lad from Calgary, with Audrey Gardner in the saddle, took first in performance jump.

Chinese Fasts For 19 Days

By TOM MASTERSON

CHUNGKING, May 31.—(AP)—Astonished doctors reported today that a Chinese peasant girl, who says she hasn't eaten in nine years—has fasted for 19 days without visible ill effects.

In that time she has never been out of sight of a nurse and has taken only a half pint of water, said Dr. T. Y. Gan of Chungking municipal hospital. Other doctors vouched for Gan's story.

"Normally a girl undergoing such a fast would be in an extremely weakened condition, but this girl leads a perfectly normal life except for not eating and limited drinking."

I went in to see the girl, 20-year-old Yang Mei. She is a small, homely, little girl with black teeth. She weighs about 85 pounds.

NO STARVATION SIGNS

She shows no sign of starvation. She appears no different from any other peasant girl. I found it difficult to believe her story as told by Gan, one of four doctors

Quebec Premier Says Election Not Far Off

NORANDA, Que., May 31.—(CP)—In a swing through Three Rivers and northwestern Quebec over the week-end, Premier Maurice Duplessis was praised by a Roman Catholic bishop and told a meeting here Saturday that "elections are not far off."

He also called upon members of all parties to unite under his own Union Nationale party to defend the rights of Quebec.

On Saturday, Mr. Duplessis spoke twice in Three Rivers and once in Noranda, while on Sunday, he spoke after the saying and blessing of the cornerstone of the new Makamik sanatorium near Lasalle.

It was at Lasalle that Mgr. Joseph Aldeas Desmarais, Roman Catholic bishop of Amos, told Mr. Duplessis that he had "aptitudes unsurpassed and uncontested to face an election which will be proven in the coming election campaign."

"The premier has already been confirmed in grace and does not need further confirmation."

In reply, Mr. Duplessis said the election results "are assured."

The premier said at Noranda that party spirit must be put aside for the sake of the homeland. He called on members of other parties to unite with the Union Nationale, and recalled that in 1936, adherents of several parties joined to form one party "exclusively provincial and independent of any other government."

DAME MAY WHITTY DIES IN HOLLYWOOD

HOLLYWOOD, May 31.—(AP)—Dame May Whitty, 82, internationally known British character actress, died at her home Saturday.

She had been in failing health for several weeks.

At her side was her daughter, Margaret Webster, Broadway producer-director-actress.

Dame May's husband, Ron Webster, died here in February, 1947.

The veteran actress held the title of Dame Commander of the Most Excellent Order of the British Empire, conferred on her by King George V for patriotic services in the First World War.

On the stage since 1882, she was a London and New York favorite for decades. She came to Hollywood in 1927 and became one of the screen's foremost character actresses.

One of her latest film appearances was in "Sign of the Cross." Other leading productions in which she played included "Night Must Fall," "Madame Curie," "The White Cliffs," "Gaslight," "Devotion," and "Crash Dive."
